Four Men And Woman Secure Ladies' Coats From Traveling Man's Sample Case In the Belle Vernon Freight Office Today

PURSUED BY POLICE HEAD

Lost In Darkness, But Officers Find Ladies' Coats Thrown Away—Coats Had Been Taken After Thieves Force Open a Sample Case

Four men and one woman broke into the freight office of the Belle Vernon depot of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad at 3:30 this morning and secured five ladies' coats.

Chief of Police Lawrence Bierer of Belle Vernon while making his rounds this morning, noticed a car parked on the Belle Vernon bridge. His suspicions were not aroused until he noticed a woman leave the car and run toward the station, where he noticed three men standing on the tracks. Evidently the woman saw the approaching officer and ran to warn her companions. The four started running down the tracks, closely followed by the officer. Another member of the party was at the wheel of the car and made a hasty get-away. Chief Bierer chased the men and woman in the direction of Monessen, and a short distance down the railroad track, lost sight of them. He followed down the track in an effort to locate them. Near a small bridge he found five ladies' coats thrown on the tracks by the thieves in their haste to get away.

Chief Bierer returned to Belle Vernon, where, with other members of the police force, he went to the freight depot where they discovered a sample case had been forced open, from which the coats had been taken. Evidence of the presence of thieves was found in the ticket office, although nothing else was found missing.

In the darkness it was impossible to ascertain whether the men or woman were white or colored.

KILLS FOR MONEY; FINDS ONLY $15

New York, March 25. — (United Press.)—Firemen summoned to put out a small conflagration in a rooming house on Lenox avenue, March 10, found the charred remains of Miss Mary Coleman, sixty-year-old spinster, and reported to the police that she had been burned to death. This theory was accepted until today, when Mary Farley appeared at headquarters and told the amazing story of how her husband, Harry Fenton, had murdered the woman with a hammer, remained in the room with the body 36 hours, and then, saturating the corpse and the bed on which it lay with gasoline, tried to destroy the evidence of his crime by fire.

Arrested on a charge of homicide, Fenton is said to have confessed that he killed the little old woman, who weighed only 100 pounds, with one blow of a hammer in the belief that

"But when I opened her pocket book," the alleged murderer is quoted as saying, "I found only $15."

According to Capt. Carey, chief of the homicide bureau, to whom Fenton confessed, the prisoner, accompanied by his 18-year-old wife, stole upon his victim in the night of March 8, and after beating the feeble spark of life out of her, placed the body on a bed,

CHILD SPILLS THE COFFEE; BURNS ARE PAINFUL

Isabel Scott, aged 7, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scott, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Scott of North Charleroi, was painfully burned about the body Sunday when the child spilled the entire contents of a coffee percolator, filled with the boiling hot beverage. The child, together with her grandmother, were seated at the table Sunday morning partaking of their breakfast, when in some manner the child's arm became entangled with the cord leading to the electric percolator and pulled it over, scalding her small body.

Her clothing was immediately loosened by her grandfather and Dr. A. S. Sickman, who was summoned hurriedly, and the wounds were dressed. Although Isabel's condition is not serious, the burns are very painful.

THE QUESTION OF POWER GOES TO THE COURTS

Washington, March 25. — (United Press.)—The whole question of congress' power to investigate goes to the courts today when a federal grand jury here will be asked to indict Harry F. Sinclair for contempt of the Senate.

Before this question has been settled, a court fight extending to the highest tribunal in the land, the United States supreme court, will be waged. Both the government and Sinclair are determined to establish their contentions. The Senate intends

FOR THE AID OF BEE KEEPERS

At a meeting of the Washington County Beekeepers association held Saturday, preliminary steps were taken toward a county-wide campaign against foul-brood. A disease which threatens the industry.

The association plans a comprehensive survey of the apiaries throughout the county. Following this there will be an inspection of doubtful cases by an authorized agent of the state.

This disease works rapidly and may destroy entire apiaries within a few weeks by attacking the brood in the hive. Anyone who is not familiar with the disease should get in touch with an experienced beekeeper and have his bees inspected.

The association is anxious to secure immediately a complete list of all beekeepers in the county. Beekeepers are urged to send such lists to Ellwood H. Fulton, Extension Office, Washington, Pa.

PITCAIRN "GAMS"
FEEL THE STRONG
ARM OF THE LAW
Pitcairn, Pa., March 25.—(United Press.)—Pitcairn today was a quiet city of "brotherly love" following a series of six raids here last night by state police on alleged gambling establishments.

Without warning the state officers descended on the town and staged their surprise attack. Thirty-seven arrests were made. Proprietors of the alleged gambling places were charged with operating gambling houses and the "customers" were charged with visiting gambling houses. Those arrested will be given a hearing Thursday night.

Big Merger of Grocery Stores Is Announced

Pittsburgh, March 25. — (United Press.)—A gigantic merger involving more than 1,000 grocery stores and meat markets in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, New York and the New England states was announced today by James F. Huey of the Huey & Matthews stores.

The Huey and Matthews stores will merge with the United States system and the new firm will be known as Huey & Matthews, Incorporated.

ROTARIANS TO GO TO CONFERENCE IN PITTSBURGH

From 15 to 20 members of the Charleroi Rotary club, with their wives will attend the annual conference of Rotary clubs of the Third district, to be held in Pittsburgh, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. This promises to be the largest conference ever held by Western Pennsylvania Rotarians. The Pittsburgh club is host for the first time in the twelve years since the formation of the district organizations, and has made exceptional efforts in the preparation of a program of special interest to members of Rotary International.

John J. Gibson of Toronto, Canada, vice-president of Rotary International, is the headline speaker at the conference. Business methods is the central theme of the conference.

Hundreds of out-of-town Rotarians will spend three days in Pittsburgh, having headquarters at the William Penn and Fort Pitt hotels. All business sessions of the conference will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, while the two big downtown hotels named will contain conference headquarters and will be used for social events. The principal event of Wednesday will be the Governor's ball, given in the William Penn hotel. An attractive program has been prepared by the wives of the Pittsburgh Rotarians for the visiting ladies, of whom a large number have accepted the invitation to attend.

MAN AND GIRL ARE FREED

Helen Flinn, 12 years old, and a man named Walter Smith, both of Coal Center, were placed under arrest at New Eagle on Sunday night, being taken from an interurban car enroute to Pittsburgh, on complaint of the conductor who claimed the girl was being abducted.

An investigation made yesterday disproved the theory. It was learned that the girl's mother lived at Coal Center about a month ago, and since that time she has been living with a married sister in Pittsburgh. Friday the girl went to Coal Center to her former home to get some articles belonging to the family, and Smith was accompanying her to the home of her sister in Pittsburgh.

The girl's brother arrived in Monongahela yesterday morning, and assisted in the investigation, following which the man and the girl were found innocent of any charges.

The girl is only 12 years old, but she looks and appears older, and for this reason the suspicions of the conductor were aroused.

There was a roar from the motor, and the three planes moved down the field to the get-away.

Orphans Court Will Now Sit By Itself

Judge J. Boyd Crumrine, president judge of the orphans court, announcing yesterday, at the convening of motion and rule court, that beginning next Monday the orphans court would sit separately from the common pleas court to hear motions, receive petitions and file appeals.

Since separate orphans court was established for this court and common pleas court to sit jointly on Monday mornings.

Judge Crumrine stated he had canvassed the majority of the members of the bar and they approve the new plans. The business of the courts has become so heavy that it is believed it will facilitate matters if the orphans court sits separately.

Dry Minions, Police, And County Detectives Seize Booze, Butler Raid

Butler, March 25.—(United Press.)—Sweeping through Butler in search for violators of the prohibition law, state police and county detectives, made 42 raids, 50 arrests, and seized a large quantity of alleged liquor.

The authorities began raiding Monday and the "cleanup" was ended at 8 a. m., today. The raid brought to a climax months of work on the part of county detectives in gathering evidence.

The raiding troops gathered secretly and at a "zero" hour, began a drive on violators of the dry laws, taking in the various districts. Every place suspected of violating the law was visited.

The private homes were visited, and stills found in operation were given special attention. Thirty-two barrels of wine were seized in one visit.

The persons taken into custody were released on bail of from $1,000 to $2,500. Hearings of a majority of those arrested will be held today.

MAN ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY IN CASE

FORMER DRY NEMESIS TO SING SING

New York, March 25. — (United Press.)—William H. Anderson, once the Nemesis of the liquor trade and and shovel gang at Sing Sing prison today.

The former state chief of the Anti-Saloon league, will now stand stripe to stripe for a few months beside the bootlegger, grafting politician and "prescription peddler" whom he so relentlessly pursued.

Anderson as a power to contend with may be broken by his conviction for third degree forgery by a recent jury. He has been degraded to the status of a common criminal by the supreme court decision yesterday denying him his application for a certificate of reasonable doubt in relation to his trial. But the "fighting reformer" is still battling.

He will swing his pick with fellow convicts at Sing Sing while his counsel, Charles S. Whitman, carries his appeal to a higher court.

HOMEWOOD COPS QUALIFY TODAY AS COWBOYS

Pittsburgh, March 21. — (United Press.)—Police of the Homewood district today laid aside their duties of enforcing the law and successfully qualified as modern cowboys. Four of eight steers being driven out, Frankstown avenue to the slaughter house broke away and ran wild.

Within a few minutes after this stampede, the police station was besieged with telephone calls informing the police that "wild bulls" were running loose and after two hours chase one was rounded up, but this animal was really wild and police were forced to shoot him. The other three steers were captured.

TO PUSH ERECTION OF THE CLUB HOUSE

With the approach of fair weather, work on the erection of the new Nemacolin Club house will soon be pushed. The foundation has been excavated and the Charleroi Lumber company, who has the contract for its construction, will soon be pouring the cement as a step nearer in completion. As soon as the weather will permit the workmen will go right ahead with the plans and with the close of the summer months the Nemacolin will boast of one of the finest equipped and most modern club houses in this section.

Harvey, Ill., March 25.—(United Press.)—Four bandits today escaped with $150,000 in cash contained in two registered mail sacks.

The money was shipped from the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago to the First National bank of Harvey. The two registered sacks with two ordinary sacks of mail were seized from William Russell, 60 years, as he was unloading them from the delivery truck, Russell was thrown to one side as the bandits with guns in hand threw the mail sacks into an automobile.

Lorenzo Spadacini of Fredericktown Says He Made Booze And Had Moonshine In His Cellar—Fine And Jail Sentence

OFFICERS FIND EVIDENCE

Fifty-Gallon Still In Operation Unearthed By Minions Last Summer—Eight Barrels of Mash And Several Barrels of Finished Moonshine

A Fredericktown man, Lorenzo Spadacini, in the cellar of whose home was found a large moonshine plant and a considerable quantity of finished product and beer, entered a plea of guilty yesterday to the unlawful manufacture and possession of intoxicating liquors. He was sentenced by Judge Erwin Cummins to pay the costs, a fine of $300, and to five months in jail, to be reduced to two months, if the fine and costs are paid.

When the officers raided the man's place last summer, they found a 50-gallon still in operation in the cellar, eight barrels of mash and several barrels of finished moonshine. There was also 204 bottles of beer in crates and 447 bottles on ice. He was released on bail at the time, but when called to appear last August, did not respond. He was taken before the court yesterday on a bench warrant.

John Roman and Pete Ezota, who conduct pool rooms at Bentleyville, and Ernest Brown, proprietor of a general store at Richfield, entered pleas of guilty to violating the gambling laws. It seems that Roman had two slot machines in his pool room, Ezota had one and Brown had two machines and a punch board in his store. The machines it was stated, had been placed there by agents who declared they were all right and it was permitted to operate them. It developed that Roman had been warned on a former occasion by officers and slot machines were taken from his place. The court sentenced him to pay the costs, a fine of $200 and to two months in the county jail. Ezota was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $200 or two months in jail, while Brown was given his choice of paying the costs, a fine of $100 or 30 days in jail.

E. W. Rawlings, who conducts a pool room at Canonsburg, entered a plea of guilty to violating the gambling laws. It appears that he had permitted customers to play pool for money. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $100 or to 60 days in jail.

Louis Kornhi of Fallowfield township, entered a plea of guilty to violating the mining laws. He had passed summer months the Nemacolin will boast of one of the finest equipped and most modern club houses in this section.

Rev. George Stuart Hackett, D. D., aged 69 years, wellknown pastor of the Presbyterian church of Fayette City for the past 10 years, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his Fayette City home. Dr. Hackett, who was widely known throughout the valley, was prominent in Presbyterian affairs, being secretary of the Red Stone Presbytery at the time of his death. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Moreland Hackett; one daughter, Mrs. George D. Hackett, and two sons, C. M. Hackett of Oakmont, Pa., and Dr. George S. Hackett, Jr., of Canton, Ohio.

Funeral services will take place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, followed by interment at Murraysville at 2 p. m.

Extensive Land Owner And Politician Dies At Taylorstown

Jacob L. White, a prominent resident of the Taylorstown section, an extensive land owner, and well-known in former days as a Democratic leader in the county, died suddenly on Saturday morning at his home. He had been in his usual health on Friday, retiring about 10 o'clock. Saturday morning he was found lying dead on the floor in his room. Mr. White was born in 1836, at West Middle-town. His father was Robert White, who was a native of Ireland. His mother was Martha Logas, who was a native of Pennsylvania.

He settled when a young man in the Taylorstown section, became owner of a large acreage of land in that section, farmer extensively and when the oil boom came to this country and to the Taylorstown field his land was the location of many producing wells. Mr. White was of frugal habits, and was reputed to have acquired considerable wealth. He had been a staunch Democrat all his life and at one time was Democratic county chairman. He always took an active interest in party affairs. He was never married, and his death removes the last of his family. About the only surviving relative is Gale White, a nephew.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at his late home, conducted by Rev. Mr. Ritchie of the Taylorstown United Presbyterian church. The interment was in the Claysville cemetery.

Small Sacred Horse Japan's Oddest Thing

In the famed park in Nara, Japan, there is a sacred horse. This shaggy, under-sized animal is said by the Japan Advertiser to be the funniest thing in Japan.

He is pure white and has one blue eye and one pink one. He is kept in a small stable with a square hole for him to poke out his head to eat the oats which farmers bring him.

The third largest bell in Japan hangs in Nara park, which contains 1,250 acres, and throughout which more than 3,000 stone and metal lanterns are scattered. Six hundred tame deer roam at will in the park.

Also in Nara park there is one of the three gigantic bronze Buddhas, and the largest. The others are at Osaka and Kamakura.

One of the most venerated of Shinto shrines—Kasuga no Miya—is the goal of thousands of pilgrims every year.

Bad Teeth, The Cause Of Rheumatism And Of Head Trouble

So many men at the mine of the Meadowlands Coal company at Avelon, got drunk recently that the mine had to close down. An investigation by officers showed that they had been drinking wine in large quantities. A raid disclosed four barrels in the house of Filippo Favasula, who entered plea of guilty yesterday and was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $300 and to five months in the workhouse, to be reduced to two months if the fine and costs are paid. This is his second offense. On October 22 last he entered a plea of guilty to the unlawful manufacture and possession. This is the first wine case that has been before the court, and Judge Cammins expressed the hope that the district attorney would carry a case of this kind to the supreme court for final decision, as it has never been decided.

Harrisburg, March 25—Many diseases, such as rheumatism, heart trouble, etc., are caused by bad teeth. Dr. C. J. Hollister, chief of the Dental Hygiene division, says in this week's department of health talk.

Tooth decay is the most prevalent of all diseases—about 90 percent of the human race are suffering from it. Eighty per cent of tooth decay can be prevented by proper and regular home care of the mouth and teeth supplemented by periodic examination and treatment by a dentist.

The mouth is the vestibule of the body, and is well named—"The gateway to health," according to Dr. Hollister. All nourishment taken into the body passes through the mouth, and most diseases get in the same way. Give your teeth the same attention the housewife gives to tableware each time after using, and visit your dentist twice a year for examination and necessary treatment and you will have insurance against future discomfort, disfigurement and sickness.

To brush the teeth, use a medium stiff brush with bristles set far apart and a good dentifrice, either cream or powder. Take the advice of regular dentist as to the method of brushing to be used. "A stitch in time saves nine" applies to teeth as well as torn garments. A person never misses his teeth until they are gone. False teeth are like crutches to help a lame man walk. Keep your own.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST OFFICE BUILDING

Architect's drawing of a 37 story office building will be erected on the block bounded by 32nd and 33rd Streets, 4th and Lexington Avenues, New York. It will be the world's largest office building and will contain more floor space than its two nearest competitors—the Equitable Building of New York and the General Motors Building in Detroit, is distinctly American in architectural treatment and does not follow the staid masonry motives of the Old World, but artistically recognizes the upright lines of steel frame construction.

YOUR LAWN—SOME PRACTICAL ADVICE

The two best times to start a lawn or pasture are early spring and early autumn—the seasons of abundant moisture, warm days, and cool nights. Spring sowing should be made as soon as the ground can be prepared to receive the seed, while Fall sowings should be made during September.

GOOD SOIL and PROPER DRAINAGE are absolutely necessary to produce a fine lawn. For best results, there should be no less than a foot of good earth. Unless the soil is sufficiently rich, apply a liberal quantity of well rotted manure and dig or plow it in, to thoroughly incorporate it with the soil. A heavy application of manure is particularly advisable on light or sandy soils where, otherwise, the grass is liable to burn out in hot, dry weather.

PREPARE the SEED-BED THOROUGHLY. Rake or harrow the surface fine and even. After sowing the seed, rake again lightly, and firm the soil with a lawn roller. Do not attempt to dig, rake, or roll a lawn when the ground is wet. On BANKS and TERRACES, where the seed is liable to be washed off by rains before it has sprouted, a quick-catch can be secured by mixing the seed with moist earth about one week before sowing; then at the expiration of that time, when the seed (with the earth) is sown, much of it is ready to sprout.

THE FIRST CUTTING should not be made until the young grass is 3 to 4 inches high and even then it should not be cut too short as close cropping is injurious to a new lawn. Mow the lawn, thereafter, at intervals of about ten days and rake off the clippings. Grass sown during September will, under favorable conditions, grow sufficiently to necessitate one cutting before frost, in which case the clippings should be left on the lawn to serve as a mulch.

FREQUENT ROLLINGS are beneficial after a lawn is once well established, especially in early spring after the winter frosts have drawn up the roots of the grass. SOW GOOD SEED. There are many grades of lawn seed sold. Needless to say it pays to use nothing but the best obtainable. No one kind of grass will make a good lawn. The changeable moods of our climate, the widely varying conditions of soil and moisture supply require a combination of many different grasses adapted to many different conditions. The subject of lawns has been a long and thorough study with us. Grant's Lawn Grass Mixtures are carefully composed of the finest domestic and imported turf grasses, free from chaff and weed seeds, and strong in vitality. You can depend on them to produce lasting lawns of finest texture and attractive appearance.

The Spinal Column

THE SPINAL COLUMN is the main shaft of the body. It supports the head, trunk and extremities, and to its marvelous structure is due man's upright position. The spine is composed of thirty-three segments, and twenty-four of these are freely movable in the normal adult. From childhood to old age the human spine is subjected to terrific strain. It's construction and our manner of walking upright subject the column to every manner of concussion. It carries the heavy load of the trunk. It suffers the effects of constant jarring. Violence and straining, jar and jolt it; contraction of muscles tends to exert abnormal pressure on it. Forces are concentrated on some segments and draw them out of alignment.

Nerves are impinged just the moment a vertebra is thrown out of its normal position. The flow of the life-supplying current is impaired. There can be but one result in the organ supplied by the pinched nerve—DIS-EASE.

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms—hot flashes, insomnia, etc.—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 103 Armistead Street, Phoebus, Virginia.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from the Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Great Healer for Sores, Cuts, Scalds Burns and Bruises

Great Antiseptic Ointment Called San Cura that Hennings' Drug Store Sells on Money-Back Plan.

"Arm badly scalded with steam," writes Gilbert Hard of Binard's Mills, Ohio, "San Cura Ointment relieved the pain at once and arm healed rapidly. It is a wonderful ointment."

San Cura Ointment is such a marvelous healing antiseptic ointment that it is sold on money-back plan. It relieves itching skin, eczema, old running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, piles, frostbitten feet, chilblains, catarrh, chapped skin and sunburn. 30 and 60 cents a jar.

Use SAN CURA SOAP for skin diseases and to promote a fine complexion. It's a splendid baby soap. 25 cents at Hennings' Drug Store.

Plenty of Capital.

"What would you like for your birthday?" asked mother.

"I want a small auto, a big doll, skates and candy."

"Why, I haven't got so much money to buy so many things."

Norma replied: "That's nothing. Papa's got a check book. There are a lot of pages in the book yet. We don't need money."

That Was That.

They had quarreled.

"Here are your letters," said the girl, "and here is your ring."

"Give me back my kisses," demanded the youth.

And that ended the quarrel.

Not Wanted There.

"Do you know," said the conceited actress, "that I was offered $4,000 a week to remain in New York?"

"Indeed!" remarked the candid listener.

"And was the offer made from Boston?"—Boston Transcript.

Pueblo Indians Carry Fetish When Hunting

The favorite hunt-fetish among the Pueblo Indians was the mountain lion or cougar, which they deemed the king of animals. Every Indian carried a fetish when he hunted, and derived his power from it by putting its mouth to his own and drawing in his breath—"drinking the breath" of the beast and giving to it, or rather the animal spirit it represented, to help him.

The ceremony was indispensable at the beginning of a hunt. Then before following the trail the Indian imitated the roar of his patron beast, to terrify and bewilder the game. He firmly believed that without these superstitious ceremonials he would stand no chance at all in the hunt, but with them he was sure to succeed. The animals which were successful hunters themselves were the objects of reverence, and the Indian was careful to invoke their aid, that his own pursuit might be as fortunate as theirs.

The hunter, when he struck a trail, took a forked twig and placed it in front of a footprint, with the fork opening backward. This was to trip the fleeing game.—Detroit News.

Honduras Turkeys More Gaudy Than Our Peacock

Brilliant iridescent plumage distinguishes the Honduras turkey, it being fringed with greenish copper. The head is bright blue and yellow, and the rump region is steel-blue, with brilliant eyes of green-blue margined with copper marking the ends of the grayish tail feathers. It is said to be much more gaudy than the peacock, and though somewhat smaller than our Eastern wild turkey its nest is claimed to be much better.

Experiments at zoological gardens indicate that this fancy bird will breed with the less colorful of our domestic species. It is the only species of turkey, however, which is native to tropical lowlands. The Mexican turkey, from which our domestic turkey is believed to have originated, lives on the high tablelands. It has the characteristic white-tipped tail feathers of the domestic bird. Wild turkeys in Arizona and New Mexico show this feature, while turkeys of the Rio Grande valley of southern Texas are partly like the Mexican birds and partly like the Eastern wild turkey.

Had No Diver's Suit

What is said to be a record claim for damage to a watch, which had been sold with a guarantee against mechanical imperfection, was reported by a New York jewelry retailer. The watch was of the wrist variety, and had been a birthday gift from the mother of the young woman who made the claim. She brought it back to the retailer a couple of months after the purchase and complained that it would not run. On the strength of the guarantee she demanded a new watch. The retailer quickly ascertained that her charge was true, but when he examined the watch more closely he found the works almost entirely covered with rust. The young woman was at first unwilling to admit that the watch had been badly treated in any way, but finally admitted that she had worn it while taking a bath. Under the circumstances the jeweler could not see where the watch was at fault, but he offered to replace the works at factory cost. This offer, however, did not make much of a hit with the claimant.

Origin of the Collar

In the patent office at Washington there is a woman's department, with the specifications of the patents arranged in chronological order. The first on the list is a patent taken out in 1809 by Mrs. Mary Kleiser for a process of wearing straw with silk. One woman inventor, Hannah Lord Montague, is honored by a public memorial in Troy, N. Y., where she was born. As Mrs. Montague was doing the family washing on a hot summer day in 1825, it occurred to her that a shirt remained clean for a longer period than a collar, so when her husband's shirts were dry she detached the collars from them. Subsequently she started to making detachable collars for sale to her neighbors, and the demand for them reached such a pitch that before 1840 several factories of "straw collars" as they were called in their infancy, were established in Troy, which still possesses the largest collar factory in the world.

One of Jock's Tricks

Late one night Jock, returning home from work, found a young owl which had fallen from its nest. He picked up the injured bird, carried it home, fed it, and at last placed it in a cozy corner of the kitchen fireplace.

In the early morning Jock's mother came down into the kitchen to get breakfast ready for the family, and was startled by the strange object. But she soon recovered from her alarm, for she was accustomed to the many tricks of young Jock.

"That's our Jock at his pranks again!" she smiled. "He's gone and put a beak on the kitten."

Wanted the Rest of It

The householder, answering a knock at the door, discovered a poor Jew who the previous day had begged a waistcoat from him.

"Does the kind gentlemen remember," said the Jew, "that he gave me a waistcoat yesterday? Well I found a five-pound note in der pocket."

"Upon my word," said the householder, "you are an honest man. Come inside, sir."

While the Jew was enjoying the glass of wine and cigar immediately found for him, the householder said: "Of course, you have brought the waistcoat back?"

"No," replied the Jew. "I haf come to beg for der coat and trousers."

GLADLY GIVES HIS OPINION OF SULAC

A Grand Stomach Remedy, Prominent Resident Declares

Stomach No Longer In Weak Condition—He Feels Like New Man

NERVOUS, UNSTRUNG, DIZZY, WEAK SPELLS UPSET HIM

"I've got to praise this new medicine they are introducing at the drug store because it is the real thing and all they claim it to be," enthusiastically declared Henry A. Audelin, a will tore up not only your stomach, but that will put your system back into first class condition.

A lot of local people are finding in Sulac, a remedy that has been on sale here but a short time but which has a long record of satisfaction behind it in other places, the thing they need to tone them up. They say that after taking it they can once more enjoy a good meal without being sorry that they ate it.

Sulac is a certified product of the famous Southern Laboratories of Atlanta, Georgia. It is made by a new process and is so strong, so quick and so sure and so nice tasting that its users are its very best advertisements. Some of these people who are praising Sulac have tried a number of other different remedies, but until they found this wonderful combination of reconstructive remedies nothing seemed to help them. Talk to your druggist today about Sulac. He will tell you that its record is so good that no one suffering from stomach trouble will make a mistake in giving it a thorough trial. He will also tell you that if you will take six bottles of it according to directions and are not benefited that he will refund your money. The manufacturers authorize him to do this.

If you happen to live in a town where you can't buy Sulac, write the Southern Laboratories, 39 Eugenia street, Atlanta, Georgia and it will be sent to you postpaid at $1 per bottle.

Read what these people who have used Sulac have to say about it in the columns to the right.

Anybody can get the same results. If troubled that way and it surely feels good to feel good these brisk days. A full treatment is guaranteed to relieve you completely to your satisfaction or it costs nothing. Drop in at the drug store today and let us tell you more about Sulac. Leading druggists are agents for this remarkable product of the Southern Laboratories here.

"Nothing would please me better than to have my friends ask me when in our drug store, about my personal opinion of this remarkable new remedy. In my position I am asked many times a day about various would not recommend Sulac unless I knew the formula was good and that it really accomplishes what they claim for it, irrespective for its formula. I have been recommending Sulac to my friends and customers for about four months and I'm satisfied that it is a satisfactory one that can be created for the treatment of stomach, liver and blood and as a real constructive tonic," declared

G. Lahan, general popular gentleman behind counter at a Marlboro drug store. Such testimony from one who comes in contact with them all surely must convince the most skeptical that Sulac is worth testing in your own case. Drop in at the drug store—ask about it—Send for a bottle to test—better still take a full treatment of six bottles on positive guarantee if it fails to satisfy you with actual results, your money will be cheerfully refunded. You can find people all over this section who have taken it and found it a truly wonderful remedy.

Note—Mail orders prepaid anywhere. $1 per bottle or 6 bottles $5. Each bottle is guaranteed also to be the genuine Sulac—a certified product of the nationally known Southern Laboratories, 39 Eugenia street, Atlanta, Ga. Your own druggist probably can supply you, but if he can't, write the manufacturers.

Sulac is sold by Hennings' Drug Store and other high class druggists.

PLENTY OF GAS.

This community is surfeited with plenty of gas—natural gas—as well as “verbal gas.” In respect to its natural gas, it is to be congratulated, inasmuch as there seems to be no immediate prospect of a shortage, but rather that we are to have the commodity in abundance for at least some time in the future. Many local wells have been and are being drilled, with results most satisfactory in the majority of instances; so that it would seem no artificial raising of rates can be foreseen, as they are unnecessary.

With labor and economic conditions plenty of the earth's products available for use, this community is indeed fortunate, and the residents are to be congratulated.

By the economic use of gas there seems to be no reason why we shouldn't have the product here for an interminable time, and at rates commensurate with the supply.

FRATERNAL TIES.

In the services of Memorial held in the Coyle theatre, under the auspices of the local Aerie of Eagles, many lessons, beneficial in their tendencies, could be drawn, not only by Eagles, but by the populace present. In his address, which had for its basic theme, “the immortality of the soul,” Attorney Wooda N. Carr emphasized two important and essential fundamentals for the prosperity and happiness of the people, and the perpetuity of the race. One was the spirit of tolerance which should prevail among peoples, and secondly, that of character building, for young, the middle-aged, and old have a part in all this.

There is a life beyond the grave, and man's measure here and his rewards in the hereafter will be commensurate with words expressed and deeds recorded here. To leave a fitting epitaph to his memory, to have his name enshrined in the hearts of those who loved him during his pilgrimage on this mundane sphere, he must cultivate and practice the spirit of tolerance, and he must so build that it will be safe for the younger generation to follow in his footsteps. In passing man leaves his footsteps on the sands of time; may they be so clear that his deeds can be seen to greatly overcome his frailties.

The lessons learned in fraternalism assist man to eschew and cultivate the virtues of tolerance and gives him inclination of the nobleness of character building that he may pass to the beyond leaving the world better for his having lived in it.

Unkind

They were very much in love, but at last came the day when they had a bitter quarrel and they parted, each resolved never to see the other again as long as they lived.

Years passed, and they had almost forgotten that little love affair, when one night they came face to face with each other at a dance.

The man felt rather embarrassed, but he went eagerly up to her, nevertheless, and said softly:

“Why, Muriel?”
She looked at him indifferently.
“Let me see,” she said, calmly. “Was it you or your brother who used to be an old admirer of mine?”

He was snubbed, but he rose to the occasion.
“I really don't remember,” he replied affably. “Probably my father.”

He'd Done It Before

“Now dear,” remarked Mrs. Subbub to her husband, as he was getting ready to go to the city, “I want you to do a little job for me while you are in town today. Will you go to Goose's and get me a house robe?”
“Very well, dear,” he replied, and went on his way.

Entering the store some time later, Mr. Subbub gave his order.

“Here are some very pretty ones,” said the salesgirl. “What color do you prefer?”

“Doesn't make any difference,” was the answer.

“Doesn't make any difference!” echoed the girl. “But don't you think your wife would like a certain color?”

“No, it doesn't make any difference what color or size I get,” said Mr. Subbub, sadly. “I shall have to come back tomorrow and have it changed.”

HARKEN YE, AMBITIOUS WIVES!

A husband's advice to his wife on how to succeed is often startling to the wife. Sometimes it betrays astonishing ignorance. In which case, may it be that husband is blind in the near eye? Or that wife's methods, like those of high-powered machinery, are unusually quiet in action? Judge for yourself in the case of Helen S. Wright of Pittsfield, Mass.

Charles Wright, Republican district attorney, was up for re-election last November. Democratic sentiment was running, to the mind of the Republican fathers, dangerously strong. Many conservative women, nominally Republican, had never voted. An invitation came—never mind how—to Mrs. Wright to speak to, and perhaps organize these women.

“You'd better write out your talk, let me criticize it, and then help you learn to deliver it,” the husband volunteered. “You know even a few women's votes may count this time!”

“I'll speak better extemporaneously,” was the reply which sent a worried gentleman to this meeting and a less worried but much puzzled one to many others.

The 5,000 majority given Mr. Wright was conceded to be the woman's vote! A scant 500 in this district saved Senator Lodge, whom Mrs. Wright did not campaign for. Years ago when her son was well started in school, a civic movement needing money interested her. She was well educated, accurate and a successful housekeeper. Out of just those moderate efforts if one is to believe her, grew her attempt at a cookbook of the best recipes of the best housewives of Pittsfield. The book was published. It was well done. It made money. She could—after a fashion, at least—write.

Next came a collection of dolls quaintly and accurately dressed in costumes of past ages. The collection, presented to women's clubs, taught her to meet audiences. All this so without fuss or feathers, she has told me, that her busy husband never missed her. At present many women's organizations seek Mrs. Wright for lectures. The great publishing house of Macmillan asks for the manuscripts of her books, “Who's Who” lists her among the famous, and politicians high in office seek her advice on party plans.

How Silver in India Helped to Win the War

Silver fought another good fight in the World war. In 1918 the allied armies were battling desperately. Every available man was on the fighting line. One of the things the allies needed most was jute; gunny sacking is another name for jute. There is only one place in the world to get jute—India. Patiently the British government had taught the natives that silver certificates were as good as silver, but by 1918 the British government, by jute purchases, had withdrawn nearly all the silver used to back these certificates, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society. Germany learned this and began propaganda in India. A run on Indian banks would have destroyed the confidence of the natives in Britain and thrown India into revolt.

Silver must be found somewhere to save India, and possibly to save the allies. Supplies of mined silver had been exhausted. There was only one big source of silver, the vaults of the United States treasury. Here great piles of silver dollars backed our silver certificates. Britain asked for that silver. The United States sold it gladly. More than 400,000,000 of silver dollars were melted and sent to India, later to be replaced in the vaults by new purchases through the Pittman silver act. That's how silver helped win the war.

Swifter Than Is Man's

Sir Humphrey Rolleston, president of the British Royal College of Surgeons, verifies the observation that in women instinct is highly developed, says a London letter in the New York Evening Post.

“Women,” declared Sir Humphrey the other day, “have in a more developed perception than men the power of rapid perception or intuition, allied to second sight and clairvoyance, or of arriving at a correct solution of a problem per saltum. Apart from its potential use and application in research, this faculty of arriving immediately at a correct opinion, without the process of conscious ratiocination, resembles the clinical instinct born of long years of experience, and is no doubt a function of the unconscious which is so invaluable in diagnosis. Hospital sisters often have this power, and when re-enforced by a more extensive training, it should be an asset to woman doctors.”

While the average woman student was superior to the average man, the best woman students were not so able as the best men.

Many Use Metric System

The metric system of measurement was originated in 1790 by James Watt, the noted English inventor. One of the first nations to adopt this system was France during the French Revolution. Lavoisier, the great French chemist, was the principal influence for its adoption. Today every civilized nation in the world, except the United States and Great Britain, has adopted the metric system. These two English-speaking nations now wrestle with a jumble of other systems, hence a strong demand that the world centralize on one popular system—the metric.

They Meant Business

A man slipped on a banana peel and executed a very funny fall, not being hurt, as it turned out, but having his dignity somewhat ruffled. When he recovered a moment later a friend was holding his hat and a number of people had formed a circle.

“What do these idlers want?” he snarled.

“They are not idlers,” explained his friend soothingly. “Here's a doctor who wants to look you over, a lawyer ready to bring suit for you and a producer of comic films who would like to sign you up.”

Purely Ornamental

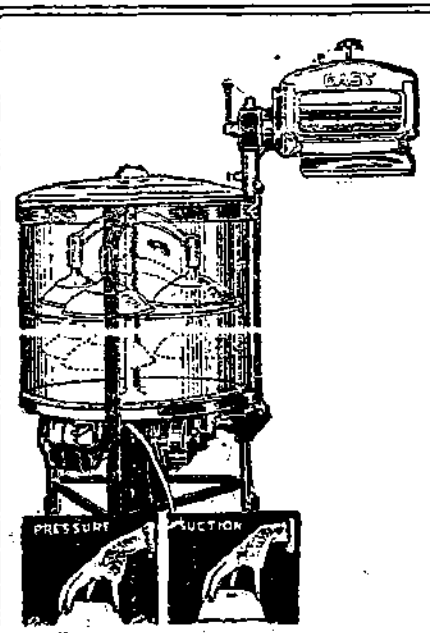

British Consul General Armstrong was talking at a New York reception about the popularity of the prince of Wales.

“When the prince,” he said, “visits Balmoral, the royal estate in Scotland, he always wears the kilt. Two pretty lassies passed him on the road one day.

“Did you see his knees?” said one of the lassies afterward. “They were as pink and dimpled as a baby's. I wanted to kiss them, so I did.”

“Floor,” said the other lassie; “they didn't look as if he prayed much.”

What Growing Children Need

EVERY mother knows that a growing family needs much nourishing food. Boys and girls need energy for their school-work and their play. Every member of the family must be kept in the best of condition.

One of the greatest of all energy-producing foods is Karo. One reason is that it contains a large proportion of Dextrose, the great energy food.

Also, Karo is one of the most economical of all foods. Not only does it cost so little but it can be used for so many purposes. Karo takes the place of high priced preserves.

You can use it for sweetening in all kinds of cooking, baking, and for stewing prunes and dried fruits.

Ask your grocer for Blue Label Karo or Red Label Karo—both equal in nutrition.

and Mrs. John M. Fries of Fallow-field avenue for several days.

Joseph J. Fillingham, son of Mrs.
James Fillingham of Third street, left yesterday for Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where he will play the keystone sack for the baseball team of that place. The team for which he is to play is identified with the Oklahoma Southwestern league.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Grimes of Lincoln avenue and Mr. and Mrs. George Mills of Second street left today for Uniontown to attend the funeral services of their grandmother, Mrs.
Henry Wolfe, age 88, who died Sunday morning following a long illness.
Interment will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

FOREST STATION

WILL BE GOIN'

IN FEW WEEKS

The forest fire fighting forces of the Forbes District are again being organized for a busy fire season this coming spring. Forest inspectors and observers will be on duty during the months of April and May. The inspectors are E. C. Myers of Mt.
Pleasant, Jno. C. Beatty of Uniontown, N. G. Moore of Bakersville and L. H. Musser of Berlin. The tower-men are Geo. B. Cassady, Statler Hill Tower; Roy E. Maust, Negro M.
Tower; L. W. Morrison, Sugar Loaf
Tower; Andrew Weskus, Hays Hill
Tower and Walter M. Goodwin, Goodman Knob Station, Clark Bridge. Bear Cave Tower and L. A. Knapp, Cummings Tower.

Work Knob Station, three miles south of Conneville, on the lands of Judge Ark has not yet been completed. Owners of woodlands and friends of the Forestry cause are contributing toward the completion of this station. It will probably be in operation within a few weeks.

In addition to towermen and inspectors there is an emergency organization of 40 fire bosses, 205 local wardens and about 1200 "Minute Men." "Minute Men" are men who have consented to respond to a fire alarm at any time their assistance is required. They know their places on the firing line and are supplied with tools.

Last year there were 282 fires in district, 18,835 acres of woodland were fire swept. Railroad locomotives were responsible for 28 per cent of the fires. As long as the companies continue to operate without cleaning up rights-of-way and without keeping screens in good repair, fires from this cause will not be uncommon. Ten per cent of the fires were caused by people burning brush.
Five per cent resulted from lumbering operations and 13 per cent from transients.

Inspectors will endeavor to secure the removal or elimination of serious fire hazards. Legal action will be

The Y. M. H. A. and the Y. W. H.
A. of Uniontown announce their Spring dance to be held on Wednesday evening, April 16 at the Gallatin garden, Uniontown. Eddie Hites and his ten entertainers will feature.

The Gothic Literary club will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting in the Community room of the Elks club this evening. At the close of the routine business session and program, the members present will lunch in Wagner's Tea Room.

Last evening at the home of Mrs.
J. J. Henrich of this place, the members of the Monday Evening 500 club spent a pleasant evening in card playing, three tables being in play. Favors were awarded to Mrs. Rose Gillette and Mrs. Alfred Murray. At a late hour the guests adjourned to meet again at the home of Mrs. Alfred Murray, Monday, March 31, Pennsylvania avenue, North Charleroi.

Miss Irene Ewing was tendered a state, last evening by 24 of her young friends. Miss Ewing received many beautiful and useful gifts.
Cakes and music were the main diversions of the evening, after which a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Clyde Strausser, Mrs. K. R. Terrell and Mrs. J. J. Henrich.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sabatini entertained at their home in Fallowfield avenue last evening with a birthday party in honor of their daughter, Nelhe, who celebrated her 13th birthday anniversary. A delightful evening was spent in games and music and later in the evening luncheon was served by Mrs. Sabatini assisted by Mrs. Fay and Mrs. Peraloni of Belle Vernon. The honored guest resents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Showers of Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Howard of Dunlevy announce the marriage of their daughter Anna to W. R. Byrnes of Belle Vernon. The young couple left yesterday morning by motor for Wheeling, W. Va., where they were recently married. The announcement comes as a complete surprise to the young couple's many friends in Charleroi. The bride, who is a popular young lady of Dunlevy, was actually in a brown coat with hat to match. The groom is very well-known in Belle Vernon and vicinity. They were unattended.

With song and instrumental music leading the program of the Monday Musical club at the regular bi-monthly meeting of that organization held last evening in the Community room of the Elks club, the large attendance present spent a most enjoyable evening. The program was as follows: Piano, Schumann, by Berhel Jacobs; song, Schubert, by Ethel Barth; piano, Liszt, by May Kinder; vocal duet, Estelle Provins, and Blanche Tover and solo by Emma Showers. At the conclusion of the program, the contingent repaired to Wagner's Tea room, where they were served a dainty luncheon. The hostesses for the evening were Emily Pierson, Nora Swan and Helen Roberson.

SELF-SACRIFICE

THEME OF A BRAND

NEW PRODUCTION

"You don't look guilty. Are you?"
"Do you realize that you are going to hang?"

Silence after these words would mean nothing but a commission of guilt. But The Stranger in the Paramount picture of that name now playing at the Coyle Theatre, knowing that the happiness of two young people whom he loves and the career of a third depends upon his failure to defend himself, remains as he had all through the nerve-racking trial without a word to say in his own behalf.

It's a gripping situation—one that you can't fully appreciate until you have seen the picture, produced for Paramount by Joseph Henaberg from the story "The First and the Last,"
by John Galsworthy.
Betty Compson, Richard Dix, Lewis Stone, Tully Marshall are the featured players.
Large and appreciative audiences witnessed the opening production last night.

QUESTION OF POWER GOES TO THE COURTS

(Continued from First Page) to settle its right to force Sinclair or any other citizen to answer questions and produce records before investigating committees properly authorized.

Sinclair, taking the position that the Senate oil committee was violating his constitutional guarantees in trying to make him testify, will battle to the finish, it was indicated today, to defeat the Senate probers.

The first step in the court fight will be the return of an indictment for contempt against Sinclair—probably on Monday.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, chief Senate prosecutor, has drawn up a tentative form of the indictment which he desires to have the federal grand jury return.

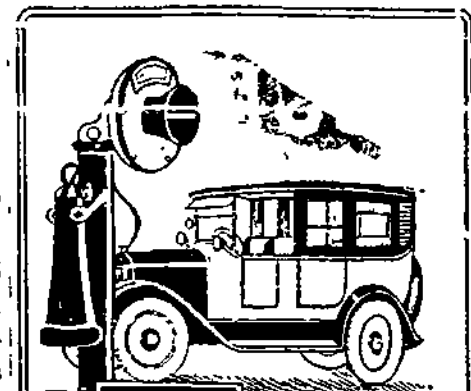

Walsh will have it sanctioned by the special government counsel, Atlee Pomerene and Owen Roberts. Then Peyton Gordon, the federal district attorney here, will present it to the grand jury, and it should not require more than a few minutes deliberation for the indictment to be returned formally.

All indictments by this grand jury will be returned on Monday.

Walsh has a conference with Roberts and Pomerene arranged for today so that the matter may be placed before the grand jury at once.

Roberts and Pomerene also will begin work today on criminal cases against others who mixed up in the oil scandal for presentation to another grand jury early next month. Indictments against Sinclair, E. L. Doheny and Secretary of the Interior Fall probably on a charge of "conspiracy to defraud the government" are in prospect.

Local authorities believe it would be extremely difficult to make out a strong "bribery" case in view of the
